COMES DEBURRED AND READY TO INSTALL, STRAIGHT FROM THE BUNDLE

Advantage Press™ Tube features an integral press end, complete with an O-ring and built-in stop. Plus, the opposite end comes deburred and designed for a perfect fit.

FEATURES A SINGLE PRESSING POINT, WITH NO SEPARATE FITTINGS TO DEAL WITH

One pressing point instead of two is faster, more seamless and results in a straighter run. Plus, no separate fittings eliminates packaging waste and the risk of theft.

DRASTICALLY REDUCES INSTALLATION TIME, BY MORE THAN HALF IN OUR TEST

Our side-by-side comparison resulted in a time savings of more than 55% over traditional copper tube and press fittings. But don't take our word for it. Watch for yourself today!

The Next Evolution of Press Technology for Copper Tube Systems:

Cerro's Revolutionary Advantage Press™ Tube

Patented one-piece design features an integral press end, complete with an O-ring and built-in stop.

The Advantage Press Tube's opposite end comes pre-deburred and is designed for a perfect fit.

To connect, just align, insert and press connect with a standard press tool. It's that easy.

Cerro's Advantage Press™ Tube combines the quality and reliability of Cerro copper tube with built-in press fit technology. Our patented integral one-piece design allows installers to make just one connection instead of two when installing copper tubing systems, delivering dramatically reduced installation times and significant total installed cost savings.

With Advantage Press™ Tube, you'll get:

- Installation time savings of more than 50% compared to traditional tube and press fittings
- Perfect fit design
- Watertight seal
- Secure, permanent joints
- Straighter installation
- Professional appearance
